1. The Derunacht and DKZ (Deutsche Kraftstoff und Mineraloel Zentrale) (German Fuels and Mineral Oils Central) in Berlin-Bismarckburg (N 53/4 94) and Adlershof (N 52/D 96), have a capacity of 15,000 and 7,000 cubic meters respectively. *

25X1 * [redacted] comment. Adlershof is known to be a fuel depot, predominantly for civilian purposes. [redacted] Berlin-Bismarckburg, on the other hand, has never been reported as being a Derunacht or army depot. There is a possibility that the Berlin-Adlershof Derunacht depot located 3 km south of Bismarckburg is actually meant. The Berlin-Adlershof depot is designated Grosstanklager 501. Its storage capacity is estimated at 15,000 to 20,000 cubic meters.
